MR. WICKIZER'S STIRRING WORDS

Another year passes us by—another year of hard work, good times and many memories. In such a community as Monroe, we find a student body second to none as the advantages of rural living combined with urban opportunities so close by serve to give the youth a variety of choices. The outlook for the future is bright indeed... Charles Wickizer

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

There have never been greater opportunities afforded the youth of America than those awaiting our youth of today. As we look to the future, we encourage the students of Monroe High School to prepare for these opportunities by striving to gain a quality education as we endeavor to provide a quality program. This proud tradition of Monroe High School is upheld through this outstanding yearbook. Congratulations to Mrs. Nelson and the staff of Hayu Saghalie... Robert Cole.

DR. DEL G. PETERSON, Superintendent of Schools

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The basic philosophy of the administration of our district is to improve instruction, to strive for a quality program and to continue equal educational opportunity for all pupils. In line with the theme of the high school annual, the staff this past year, developed a long-range curriculum - facility study. The high school teachers were assisted by Washington State University. Dr. Tjomsland and six doctoral students served as consultants in the planning.

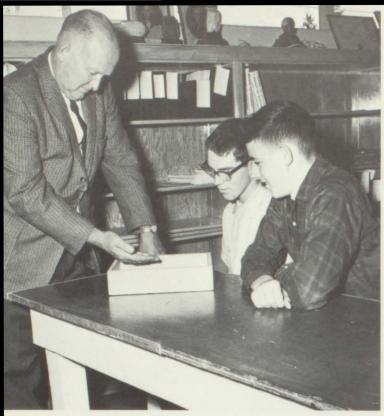

The ultimate result of the comprehensive study is to develop a sound, forward looking, quality instructional program with adequate facilities...........Del G. Peterson.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This year has held for me many opportunities, new experiences, and responsibilities which would not have been possible without you and your help. I have sincerely enjoyed my association with the students and the faculty while serving as A.S.B. President, and I appreciate, too, the cooperation that I have received from you.

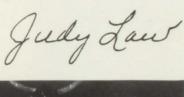

I would remind you, however, of the fact that the accomplishments of an organization such as the Student Council are sometimes limited. Even in a democracy we must expect guidance and help from those who are more experienced than we. Many times we are called upon, not to make the decisions, but to make recommendations concerning decisions which will affect us.

A few of the material accomplishments of the Student Council this past year were such things as the purchase of a new public address system for the gym, the purchase of a spotlight for use in the auditorium, and the planning and presentation of a Homecoming coronation ceremony in conjunction with the annual staff. I feel, though, that one of the most important accomplishments of the Council was the decision to form the new Key Club. This project is a joint one between the Student Council and the local Kiwanis Club. A boys' service organization, the club will be affiliated with similar clubs in other schools and will function on a national as well as local basis. With your interest and support, the Key Club will be a great asset to Monroe High School.

EDITORS MESSAGE

In this, the 1965 issue of Hayu Saghalie, the staff has endeavored to present an annual that will be valued through the years by Monroe High students and friends.

Having published the 50th anniversary yearbook in 1964, we chose this year to "look toward the future." This is a timely theme since it was during this year that the new annex, shown on the end pages, was first used for a full year and it was also during this year that we began to realize the benefit of the generous bond issue approved by the citizens of our school district in the spring of 1964.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to our advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, and to thank those staff members who so faithfully labored on this annual.

COACH'S REPORT

This year's Golf team will have better all-round balance. and the individual performance will be better. The competition is against AA schools which is, of course, tough competition. Last year we defeated only Snohomish, but this year I feel we will defeat a few more of these schools. I think the Double A schools will be in for a surprise.

Last year was a good season. Lots of the Monroe High boys turned out for golf for the first time and developed into fine golfers. We expect more turn-out for this newly developed spring sport in Monroe High.

Advisor's note

To your annual staff, this book represents not only the recorded year of activities and endeavors at Monroe High but also hours of planning and arranging -- appointments, counting, cutting, pasting and checking. Recognition goes to the entire staff.

It is fitting that a few members of the staff receive special recognition. Your editor, Paul DeLong, devoted many hours "above and beyond" normal duty. Completing many otherwise abandoned pages, he took total responsibility for many others and pulled all sections together. Kathy Carver took full responsibility for the senior section. With exceptional care and consideration, Howard Voland planned and completed the organization pages. The "original" personalities section was Karen McCarty's brain child. As business manager, Ron Wagner kept carefully detailed records.

Special "Thank you" goes to the faculty and administration for putting up with class disruption for picture taking and to Mr. Rothgeb of Crown Studio for the patience with which he took the necessary pictures. . . . D. Nelson

1965 SUPPLEMENT

This spring, Mr. Robert Cole, our principal, resigned to go on to further studies in education. He was replaced by Mr. Gene Maxim who has long been a teacher and a coach at M.H.S. We are happy to welcome Mr. Maxim as our new principal.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

This supplement represents a new adventure for the Hayu Saghalie. You as departing seniors will also be entering new adventures, ones in which you have been preparing for during the last twelve years. How you meet these adventures will largely be determined by how you have prepared yourself. Your record at M.H.S. certainly indicates a bright future.

To the students who remain at M.H.S. you also face new adventures and many challenges. Your records are still being written. From past experiences I believe your future to be unlimited, you alone will be the final determiner.

EARTHQUATE!

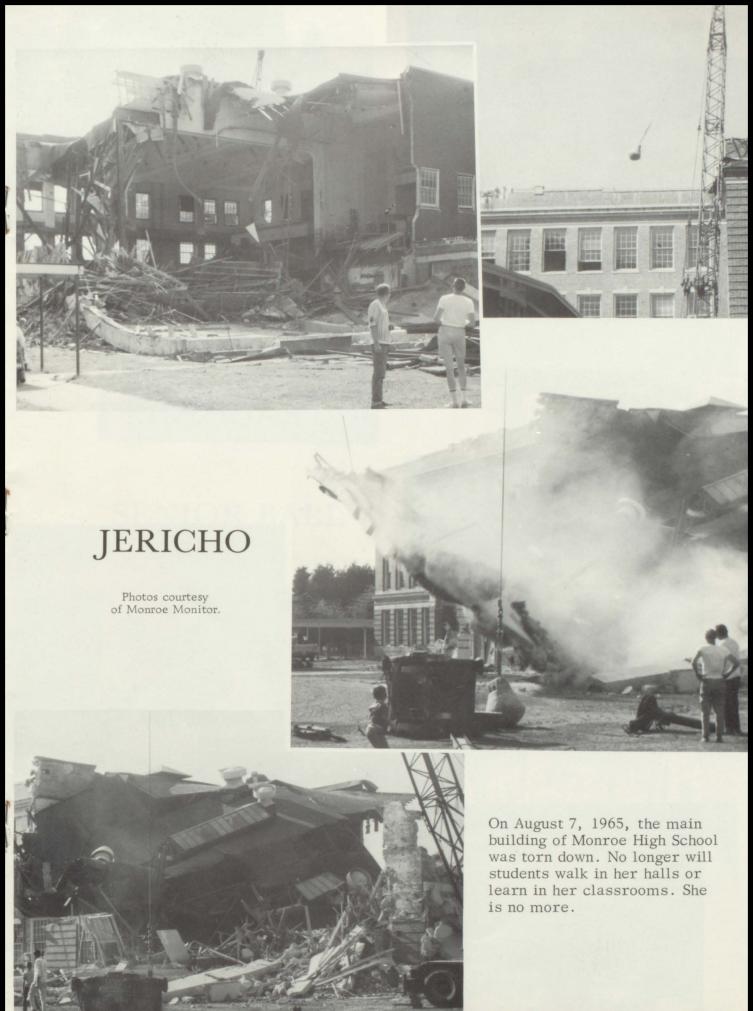

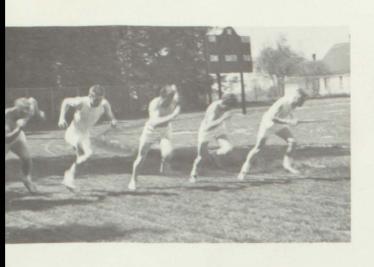

On Thursday, April 29, 1965, about 8:30 a.m., Monroe and Western Washington were hit by an earthquake. It registered almost seven on the richter scale. The area was declared disaster stricken by President Johnson. School was closed down for two days so that parts of the main building could be shored up in order that the building could be used for the rest of the school year. The main building was closed as unsafe by the Monroe Board of Education after school was out and then torn down in early August.
